TOWN HALL MEETING TO DISCUSS ROAD & BUILDING CONSTRUCTION; POSTAL SERVICES AND FUTURE BOND PACKAGE

(October 26, 2005) "Are you ready for a Town Hall?" Monday nights maybe for football, but on November 7, it's also time for a City of Frisco Town Hall, featuring a 'teamwork' theme.

Road construction, postal services and a future bond package are among the topics to be discussed at the next Town Hall meeting to be held in the auditorium at Staley Middle School, 6927 Stadium Lane. The two hour meeting begins at 7 p.m.

Residents will also get progress reports on the construction of new city facilities including the City Hall/Library Complex; the police headquarters, Central fire station, Southeast Community Park and the Recreation and Aquatic Center.

Residents will be briefed on efforts to update Frisco's award winning Comprehensive Plan, which is the city's guide for future growth – and they'll hear how they're growing participation in the city's recycling program helped Frisco win a national award.

Meeting attendees will learn 'what's new' at the Collin County Community College and get details on a new event debuting in Frisco – the 2006 Texas Amateur Athletic Federation's Winter Games of Texas.

Representatives from Pizza Hut Park and FC Dallas will also introduce folks to the team's new General Manager, Michael Hitchcock and talk about the upcoming MLS Cup, to be played in Frisco on November 13.

Given the meeting's 'teamwork' theme, representatives from the Frisco RoughRiders, the Texas Tornado and FC Dallas, as well as youth sports associations, will share information about their programs before and after the meeting.

City staffers will also be on hand to share information about their department programs and services.

Finally, residents will be invited to enter a raffle to win a "Frisco Quality of Life" basket, featuring items promoting city programs and services. A winner will be announced at the end of the meeting.

"Just like our population grows, Frisco has a growing reputation for it's 'can do spirit' and incredible teamwork," said Mayor Mike Simpson. "We use Town Hall meetings to communicate to our residents the latest information on all the progressive and innovative projects happening in Frisco – so that's our goal for the upcoming Monday night."
